

Re-redevelopment fused public and private sector with using urban plaza
“Kasumi-Terrace” as the core on southern section of Kasumigaseki 3-chome.

This project consolidated two separate projects with different entities.

Through their cooperation, the existing plaza of Kasumigaseki Building was expanded to the entire city block.

This enabled the re-organization of the central governmental facilities and the renovation and reconstruction of private buildings under a unified concept, which introduced a new approach toward urban development by way of public and private cooperation.
