OFFICE IN KAKOGAWA
This office building is located in the center of suburb near Kobe next to a boulevard. A white cube stands quietly on the lawn. The soft light falling into a courtyard welcomes people at the entrance between the cube and a wall. Once you open the door and step inside, you will find an atrium and feel light from the skylight and the lawn. The window facing the south side of the courtyard keeps privacy from outside. At the same time, it brings the soft natural light and shadow of the trees. Each one’s office space is upstairs as a part of this atrium, and creates soft boundaries. During a small break, people in the office will find a slight change and movement of nature. This will give them comfort and a relaxed atmosphere.
