The reconstruction of the historical building ‘Mitsubishi Ichigokan‘ and the construction of the cultural-exchanges hub.

The reconstruction of the Mitsubishi Ichigokan, designed in the 1890s, adopts Seismic Isolation Structure while replicating the original brickwork and wooden roof truss. Now an art museum, the building acts as a cultural hub. Rebuilding the Japan’s original office building in its original location adds more depth of history in the Marunouchi district.