

Educational Activity of Practical Fire Safety Concept and Measures for Nursing Homes for the Aged

We have greatly contributed to the improvement of fire safety in nursing homes for the elderly by the education activity of knowledge and practice of fire safety measures to relevant persons along with the development of practical guidance for fire protection and evacuation safety based on fire science and actual conditions in these institutions.