

Architecture exhibition

Continue holding as a gateway to the young architect,

It is "architectural exhibition" that contributes to the development of architectural education, which shows young designers the procedures for continuing activities and has established them.