The roadside station in Mashiko in Tochigi prefecture. Based on the concept “Make landscape by landscape”, it was built with local materials such as “timber” and “soil”, using form specific to the region: “mountain range”. It is fresh architecture which makes spirit of the locality visible.