MINAGAWA VILLAGE

We operates out of a building in Omotesando that formerly lacked a certificate of inspection. The building itself has been repurposed and regenerated into offices, a café, a multi-purpose space and collective housing with a yard. By accommodating in means such as adapting to current building regulations and improvement upon the insulation, this building has been recertified a certificate of inspection and has contributed to the increased value in estate.

The primary goal was to scrutinize the elements from various angles such as the positioning of the existing buildings to the previous experiences of the owner so that the history of the architectural values can be continuous.

These are values that will be built upon towards feature changes as a necessary foundation even after new tenants will have the liberty of altering the aspects of these building.
